Altona Council against moving police station

Western Region's M.P.'s have combined to fight a move to shift Williamstown Police Station to South Melbourne.

The group said they would oppose any move to have the station attached to the South Melbourne Police district.

Mr. A. W. Knight, MLC, Melbourne Est, said the group comprised himself and MLAs, Bill Fogarty, Bob Fordham and Gordon Stirling.

Mr. Knight said he believed that the proper place for the Williamstown police to move was to the new North Altona Division when it was completed.

He said the group had approached the Chief Secretary and had been promised that the proposals would be reviewed.

Mr. Knight said that he had also contacted the Acting Deputy Commissioner of Police and lodged a formal objection to the proposed transfer of the station strength.

He had been told that the objection might not prove valid when the reorganisation took place, he said.

The proposal to attach Williamstown to South Melbourne was made by retired British policeman Sir Eric St. Johnston.

Local residents interviewed this week described the proposal as "ludicrous," and "Totally unresearched."

One said: "Sir Eric must have used a helicopter to check his time to cross the Yarra."

"South Melbourne is rapidly becoming a high rise area which is needing more and more police.

"Is Williamstown to suffer inadequate law enforcement to meet this need?"

On Monday night, Footscray City council joined with the Altona council in also opposing the move.

Altona seeks EPA's help

On the recommendation of Cr. Doug Grant, Altona Council decided to refer to the Environment Protection Authority, complaints about companies by the municipality using equipment without the necessary permits from the authority.

SOCIAL SERVICES OFFICER COMES TO ALTONA

The Department of Social Services will provide an officer in Altona for two days a week.

The officer will work in conjunction with the council welfare officer, Mrs. Lorna Carruthers.

The Mayor of Altona, Cr. Harry Weaver told the Star that Council had made application to the Department of Social Services for the provision of an officer last year.

However at that stage the department did not have sufficient members of staff to be able to provide such a service.

Cr. Weaver added that the council has also applied to the Department of Youth, Sport and Recreation regarding the appointment of a youth officer.

The youth officer would co-ordinate youth activities within the municipality.

Cr. Weaver considers that Altona's expanding population and the Housing Commission Development proposal at Paisley make the appointment of a youth officer essential.

In addition, council has agreed in principle to a policy of using school recreation grounds for public recreation.

Council has made approaches to the Minister of Education, Mr. Lindsay Thompson, on the conditions which the Education Department will attach to the use of such grounds by members of the public.

Cr. Weaver said that Council was pleased to see that State Government policy was to recognise that school grounds and buildings should be made available to all sections of the community as community, education and recreation centres.

LOGICAL

He added that the cost of providing facilities was an expensive one for the ratepayer and taxpayer and it was logical that public facilities should be used on a seven day per week basis.

Cr. Weaver said that the council looked forward to being a partner with the Governments in the development of recreation facilities which would be for the good of the whole of the community.

Altona Petrochemical Company Ltd. is willing to donate about 93 sq. metres of land to a project that would modify a dangerous bend in Maidstone Street, north of Galvin station.

The company is concerned over the large number of vehicle accidents which occur immediately north of the railway crossing and the possibility of speeding drivers causing damage to pipe installations.

In a recent move to Altona Council, the company's general manager, Mr. J. L. Dalgetty, said in a large number of incidents cars had damaged fences and protective barriers and on occasions product pipe-lines going through the under-road culvert.

He said the APC plant safety committee had reviewed the situation and felt a public duty would be well served if the bend was modified.

A large number of our employees live in Altona and use Maidstone Street two or three times a day. In this regard we are not only concerned for the safety of the general public, but for the safety of APC employees in particular," said Mr. Dalgetty.

"APC therefore is prepared to donate about 93 square metres of land to assist in making the bend more gradual and less hazardous."

FREE LEGAL AID FOR WEST

'Better access' to law needed

The people of the western suburbs do not have proper access to the law, Mr. Gary O'Connor said this week.

Mr. O'Connor is the solicitor to the Western Suburbs Consumer Group.

The group plans to establish a free legal aid service in Footscray.

A public meeting will be held for this purpose at the Footscray town hall on Tuesday, July 24.

The Mayor of Footscray, Cr. Fred Maddern, will chair the meeting.

Mr. O'Connor said the need for a legal aid service had been shown by the success of similar services in other parts of Melbourne.

The first bureau was formed at Fitzroy little more than six months ago. It now operated every night of the week. It had helped more than 2000 people.

Other services had been established at Broadmeadows, Springvale, Prahran and St. Kilda.

Mr. O'Connor said the founders of the services had shared the belief that legal aid is the right of every person in the community, irrespective of financial position.

The Federal Government had given its support to legal aid services by making a grant of $2000 to the Fitzroy centre. Further grants are expected.

Open to all

Mr. O'Connor said there was a growing realisation among lawyers that the present Legal Aid Committee did not meet the needs of all members of the community, particularly the poorer people.

It had been proposed that the Law Institute Council sponsor a legal aid centre at Preston.

Mr. O'Connor said the proposed legal aid service would be open to all residents of the western suburbs.

Footscray had been chosen as the best place for the bureau because it was easily accessible from all parts of the district by public transport.

Mr. O'Connor said the bureau would be open at night, so that people would not have to lose time from work to obtain advice.

It will be staffed by fully qualified lawyers, who are prepared to give up their evenings to make the service a success, he said.

Move welcome

Mr. O'Connor said the decision to start a legal aid service had been welcomed by many social workers.

It will work in co-operation with existing social welfare organisations.

Mr. O'Connor said the service would aim at helping those people who were hesitant, for financial or other reasons, to consult a lawyer in private practice.

He said it would not be a competitor with solicitors, but would supplement their work by serving people who otherwise would be without legal aid.

CRICKETERS PRAISE ALTONA COUNCIL

Altona Cricket Club president Morris McDonald praised Altona Council in his recently released annual report.

"Councilors and staff were a tremendous help during the season," the report stated. "They gave us the green light on the rooms, helped us into the VJCA."

The report also listed trophy winners and outstanding individual performances.

They were: Club champion, Allan Perussich; 1st bowling average, Allan Perussich; 1st batting, Stan Hatt; 2nd bowling, Max Outen; 2nd batting, Martin Nowell; 3rd bowling, Peter Hately; 3rd batting, Peter Carroll; hat trick, Keith Miller.

Allan Perussich (8/32), Ken West (8/28), Garry McGorlick (8/52), Harry Hart (8/71), Peter Banks (98), Martin Nowell (82 n.o.), Garry McGorlick (75), Glen Marks (78).

A reception at Marianna Hall, Sunshine, followed the marriage of Carmen Micallef to Sam Borg (Pictures above). The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Micallef, of North Altona, and the bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Borg, of North Altona. Shelia Inganze and Carmen Greach attend-

Teachers' College probe continues

The State College of Victoria will continue to investigate the possibility of establishing a teachers' college in the western suburbs.

The Minister for Education, Mr. Thompson, said this in a letter to the MLC for Melbourne West, Mr. Alex Knight.

Mr. Thompson said: "The proposition that a teachers' college should be established in the western suburbs has received frequent consideration over recent years, but to date no firm decision has been made."

"Within the next few weeks, the major responsibility for advising the Minister on further development in the teachers' college system will pass into the hands of the newly-created State College of Victoria."

"No doubt that that body will continue investigations into the proposition."

"However, it must be pointed out that, the location of a teachers' college has little influence on the availability of staff in schools.

"For the first three years after completion of a teacher training course, teachers who had trained under the studentship scheme are available for placement in any school in Victoria."

"It is unlikely that many will be placed in schools in the vicinity of their training college."

Mr. Thompson also said the number of studentships awarded was related directly to the staffing needs of schools, not to the number of students admitted to universities.

He said: "The academic achievement rating required for the award of a studentship in 1973 was much higher than that required for admission to several university courses."

Hello girls,

Bronnley introduces a 3000-year-old beauty plan girls.

The mystery and magic of herbs are available in the fragrance of Witch Hazel, Camomile, Melissa and Rosemary, all included in Country Herb Soaps, Talcs, Skin Balm, Bath Foam with oil; Shampoo and Bath Crystals.

The packaging is superb, convenient plastic bottles with teak screw-on tops.

Witch Hazel is a winter flowering and flourishes on grey days, tossing its blooms of tassled, twisted richly yellow petals in the cold air.

It's Witch Hazel for a healthy, glowing skin — for it has a marvellous astringency.

Camomile is a herb that would-be blondes have been using for centuries to lighten their hair. Today, a faint summer fragrance of honey and rose scents these products. Camomile is designed to cherish all peaches-and-cream complexions.

Melissa is a herb with a fresh and vital tang — its slightly lemony flavour makes it superbly refreshing and stimulating.

Rosemary is one of the oldest English herbs and is mentioned in an Anglo-Saxon herbal, as long ago as the 11th century.

"Rosemary for Remembrance" wrote Shakespeare; and Rosemary is memorable for its distinctive light and spicy scent which lingers in the air.

Remember Bronnley still present us with their long standing range in English Fern, English Rose, Lemon Verbena, Sandal Wood etc.

Girls! A special has just arrived from Revlon in their treatment bottle.

Double size bottles of Natural Wonder Astringent Lotion (remember — this used to be named Natural Wonder Total Skin Care Lotion) for oily skin.

And the newer Natural Wonder Toning Lotion for normal skin — and Natural Wonder Soft Facial Cleanser.

Enquire whether these products are suitable for you — you may be able to save half your money.

— Bye.

TWO SWIGS OF BEER SAVED .05 BREACH

—drank after police apprehended him

Drinking about one inch of beer from a small can between driving and taking a Breathalyser test saved a man from being convicted at Footscray Court last Thursday on an exceeding .05 driving charge.

The man allowed a policeman to drive his car to Kingsville police station, and as the policeman walked around the car, grabbed a small can from the glove box, ripped it open and drank about two swigs from it, the court was told.

Breathalyser test and agreed for Sen.-Const. Williams to drive his car to Kingsville police station for the test.

As he left the car when they arrived at Kingsville, Lott snatched a can from the glove box, ripped it open and drank about two swigs from it before he took it from him.

Lott said, "You can't do anything now. I've had a drink," Sen.-Const. Williams said.

After the test, which gave a .160 reading, Lott said, "It didn't balance up. There's nothing you can do to me," he added.

To Mr. M. Clarke, for Lott, Sen.-Const. Williams said his attention had been attracted to Lott's car by the speed, not any other reason.

They had arrived at the police station about 7.30 p.m. and the breath test had been taken about 8.10.

He had not considered it necessary to conduct sobriety tests.

Mr. Clarke submitted that because Lott drank after driving, the case would have to be dismissed.

Senior-Sergeant Alf Barnham, prosecuting, said Mr. Miller had only to be satisfied that Lott's blood-alcohol content was over .05, and not .1 at the time of driving.

The amount Lott drank after driving was extremely small, he said.

It seemed certain the content at the time of driving would have been over .1.

Mr. Clarke said there had been an intervening factor, the drink at the station, and Mr. Miller could not be satisfied Lott drove while the reading would have been over .05.

Mr. Miller said that while there was evidence Lott drank about three-quarters of an hour before the test, he was satisfied on the prima facie evidence Lott had been driving while over .05.

But he was not satisfied as to which bracket the content fell into, so would dismiss the charge.

Lott admitted prior convictions for driving with a blood-alcohol content over .05 and for careless driving.

Mr. Clarke said that if Lott lost his licence he would lose his job and as he was under treatment for an illness, this would place him in financial difficulties.

Mr. Miller said that while the speed was not excessive under the road and traffic conditions, Lott had prior convictions so his probationary licence would be cancelled for a minimum of four months. He fined him $40.

Billy Liar will show in Altona

The Altona Drama Group is currently rehearsing on Tuesday and Friday nights for its production of Billy Liar.

The play is being produced by Brian Gunst and those taking part are Florence Boothroyd, Carol Huggins, Geoffrey Fisher (Derek Williams), Alice Fisher (Barbara Freebody), Billy Fisher (Steve Tuckett), Arthur Crabtree (Shane Read), Liz (Julianne Richards), Barbara (Morag Zun), Rita (Doris Beardsley).

Altona councillor, Pat Lynch had more than one reason to complain of a hangover after the recent mayoral ball. After driving a few friends home after the event, he was about to 'call it a night' at 4.00 a.m., when the telephone rang. Somebody wanted Pat to bail out somebody's brother from the Sunshine lock-up (the joys of being a JP). Needless to say Pat politely asked the caller to phone back at a more respectable hour.

Local punters will no doubt be delighted to learn that the TAB has spread its wings to Berrick Square, Altona North where a newsagency was opened Monday. Pity the government couldn't show the same speed with the new police station.

Meanwhile Altona's resident "Quadrella King", JD has crashed and requests the instant return of all loans. Can't blame people in the city who are concerned about the potential danger of children on horses. Horse bolting west along the pavement in Purnell Street recently, had no intention of letting its inexperienced rider (who was clinging on for dear life) pull it up. Fortunately nobody was on the footpath at the time.

Tree lovin mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver is receiving aid with his campaign to beautify Altona. Council recently granted permission for the establishment of a nursery on railway land opposite Harrington Square in Altona. Congratulations are due to Helen and Russell on their recent engagement and to Alan (Tippo) Tipping and Sheila Robertson on their marriage.

Shirley Kean are in charge of props.

Meanwhile the other members of the Drama Group are attending the theatre and learning about acting.

Anyone wishing to join the group should attend rehearsals at 8 p.m., or contact Barbara Freebody, 4 Lugg Street, Altona or telephone her on 398 1594.

Sons have dads' night

St. Eanswythe Church of England's pages and esquires held a successful father and son night last week.

The pages contested party relays, a newspaper quiz and discussed Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. Esquires played poison ball, postball, charades and basketball. A recent trip to Lake Mountain was a success and ended with tea and church service at St. Luke's, Spotswood.

Coming events will include a visit to the Port Emergency Service and a film night.

Elderlies' hostel

Altona's Cr. Ian Stewart told a recent meeting of council he was not opposed to the establishment of a hostel for elderly people in Altona but he would oppose any moves to establish one on the site of the Paisley housing estate.

Cr. Stewart said he felt statements made by him in council had been misinterpreted by some people. "I am certainly not opposed to a hostel for elderly people providing it is in the right place," he said.

MESSAGE FROM YOUR MAYOR

Cr. Harry Weaver

Recently, a big public relations breakthrough to the people outside Altona was achieved when the centenary edition of the Victorian Year Book included pictures of the City of Altona. One of these was of Altona Council in session, in its modern chambers.

I think this type of publicity is much needed. As we in this city know Altona is a good place to live, but there is a need to educate others and for Altona to be included in the Centenary Year Book, is a good thing.

The mayoral charity ball was a huge success, as I reported at last week's council meeting. Proceeds went to Altona District Hospital.

Council's next quarterly news sheet is being prepared and will include reports by councillors, the town clerk and city engineer.

On Board of Works matters, it was recently brought to notice through the environmental study of Port Phillip Bay that there is a need to improve the effluent going into the bay at Werribee. Council has been trying to tell the board of this for years.

At last it has got some results. The effluent going into the bay at Werribee promotes seaweed growth and we in Altona suffer when certain winds bring it along to our shore.

The board at its last meeting, approved the spending of $1,318,000 for the development of a master plan for water quality management for the sewerage arriving at Werribee.

In conjunction with this plan, pilot studies for all the board's farm properties will be taken.

This means the growth of seaweed off Werribee will be reduced considerably, once this plan is put into operation, and eventually five and a half miles of Altona Bay should be free of seaweed.

Seaweed on Altona beach has been a problem for at least 50 years. It is good to see that steps are now being taken to solve this problem.

Sewerage reticulation has now commenced in Rayner Street, near Railway Street, and work will continue south along Rayner, Rose and Grieve Parade, towards Blyth Street during the next few weeks.

$10 is all you need to become a Special Bonds investor

Special Bonds have remarkable advantages for people who wish to invest small amounts of money. Without fuss or bother you can invest as little as $10 at a time.

Series 2B Special Bonds, now on sale, offer you interest rates which rise from 6.2% to 6.6% in April, 1976 and to 6.8% p.a. in October, 1978, plus a capital gain (tax free for most investors) rising in stages to 3% at maturity (April 1, 1981). The average yield is 6.8% p.a. (approx.). The return of your investment, plus interest and capital gain is unconditionally guaranteed by the Australian Government.

Special Bonds are an ideal investment for personal and family savings, club, society or trust funds and business reserves. Special Bonds are an authorised trustee investment. They are free from Commonwealth and State stamp duties. Series 2B Bonds can be cashed at any time after April 1, 1974, by giving one month's notice at any bank. The minimum subscription to Special Bonds is $10, and the maximum holding (all series combined) is $50,000. Special Bonds are always available through any bank or stockbroker.
